- 4 Main Halls across 2 Days
 - AiCVS Hall (International) – 2 days
 - AiCVIM Hall (International) – 2 days
 - Chinese Sessions (for Domestic Veterinarians) – 2 halls, 2 days
- 30+ keynote and invited lectures
- Hands-on workshops (2 sessions planned)
- Oral and poster presentations for clinical and research studies

Networking and Cultural Activities

- Welcome Party – an engaging social evening for international networking
- Exhibition Zone – over 50 booths featuring surgical, diagnostic, and clinical innovations
- City Partnership – with the Kaohsiung City Tourism Bureau offering cultural tours and leisure programs for attendees

3. About Kaohsiung – A City of Inspiration

Kaohsiung, Taiwan's thriving southern metropolis, combines modern infrastructure with a rich cultural identity. The city offers:

- Convenient access via Kaohsiung International Airport and High-Speed Rail
- Beautiful waterfronts, including the Love River and Kaohsiung Harbor
- Art and cultural landmarks, such as the Pier-2 Art Center and Fo Guang Shan Monastery
- Famous local cuisine and night markets offering authentic Taiwanese flavors

Kaohsiung's warmth, creativity, and maritime charm make it an ideal host city for this international veterinary congress.

4. Expected Impact

The 2026 AiCVS–AiCVIM Joint Congress will:

- Strengthen international collaboration in veterinary specialization
- Promote advanced clinical education and cross-border research partnerships
- Create opportunities for academic–industry cooperation
- Contribute to the growth and excellence of veterinary medicine in the region
